

Stewart Geo Technologies offers effortless site information to help you evaluate potential commercial property investments and narrow your targeted prospects to a manageable size. Our Re-Source solution for commercial real estate professionals performs customized, location-based searches with unprecedented speed and accuracy. Much more than a property search tool, Re-Source delivers information with which to make better investment decisions quickly and at a low cost. Among the many features Re-Source offers are:

- the FUNCTIONALITY to pinpoint the exact location of the property with GlobeExplorer
- increased PRODUCTIVITY as a result of user-friendly integrative applications
- the CONVENIENCE of 100 percent online access to commercial property information
- the VALUE of single property searches and customized subscription ordering options

FUNCTIONALITY

Partner with Stewart Geo Technologies, and you'll be able to customize your business with co-branding and private label opportunities. Since Re-Source features fast, map-based searches for custom search areas, you can choose only the locations you're most interested in. And with exact property identification through state-of-the-art Geo Code technology, we won't just get you close. We'll pinpoint the precise location of each property searched onto a GlobeExplorer aerial map.

PRODUCTIVITY

Save time with user-friendly access to property information and associated market data that allows you to quickly determine if a targeted market warrants further analysis. And if you're looking for something in particular – like landmarks or even nearby competitors – you can seamlessly integrate your own data into Re-Source to get an even better picture of how well a property suits your needs.

CONVENIENCE

No system compliance hassles, download issues or installation frustration. Simply log into Re-Source's comprehensive data and images whenever and wherever you have Internet access, the moment you subscribe. From aerial map searches to property specifics and market reports, Stewart Re-Source combines optimum technology and ease of use to make assessor-based property information and market data affordable and accessible.

Once you log into your Re-Source account, you can search a specific address or select an area of properties to target.

VALUE

Stewart Re-Source provides the flexibility of either per-report access or a subscription with unlimited access to all features. Choose the structure that works best for you to maximize your return on data source dollars.

Flexible pricing, unequalled functionality and no installation. Choose the only Re-Source that lets you focus your efforts on the properties that are most likely to meet your needs.
