Market Position

YASH Technologies is a leading enterprise business and technology solutions provider with global reach. We leverage technology and our flexible delivery models to drive performance and business value throughout a customer's enterprise.

Our mission is to focus on achieving success for our customers by helping them gain and sustain a strategic business advantage through world-class solutions, professional services, and a flexible global delivery model.

Value Proposition

YASH is in business to help customers leverage technology to gain business advantages. We do this through a comprehensive enterprise approach-first understanding where the organization is heading and their goals and objectives and how they position and use technology as a vehicle to help them achieve their objectives.

By offering end-to-end business and technology solutions, YASH as a strategic partner can manage the entire lifecycle of an initiative as well as drive the strategic IT road-map for an organization to ensure it aligns with the business direction and objectives.

As a mid-sized organization, we understand the culture of our main customer segment: medium to large enterprise customer sector ranging from $600 M - $3 B. The value we provide extends beyond cost savings, but incorporates the flexible nature of our relationship approach. Customers benefit by not being tied to stringent contracts or strict partner methodologies, but thrives with a partner that shares in the risks and rewards of success.
